

Marketing Position

Applications are being accepted for a full-time, tenure-track position in Marketing. The Anderson University Falls School of Business invites applicants who are interested in joining an ACBSP accredited program that emphasizes excellence in teaching. The tenure track position, beginning August 2010, will be filled by an energetic individual who will join a business school that currently includes 21 full-time faculty who share a vision to develop leaders with Christian values and solid business expertise. The ideal candidate will have: doctoral qualifications, practical experience, strong teaching skills, and an interest in publication. ABDs near completion will be considered. Teaching load may include undergraduate and graduate courses.

The School of Business

The Falls School of Business (FSB) is a vibrant, growing, and important part of the University. As a top-ranked business school, the FSB has grown to almost 700, including nearly 300 under-graduate students, over 300 master level students, and 75 doctoral students. As a working laboratory for students, the Flagship Enterprise Center houses one of the largest business incubators in the state of Indiana. In addition, Hardacre Hall contains all business faculty offices, most business classes, and very soon, a financial trading room. With a strong can-do attitude, the FSB has a promising vision for the future while taking the time to enjoy building relationships with students and faculty across the campus.

The University

Anderson University is a comprehensive university with a rich liberal arts tradition that strongly serves students' practical, professional preparation.
