California Baptist University, an evangelical Christian university affiliated with the California Southern Baptist Convention, invites applications for tenure-track positions to begin August 2010 in the areas listed below. Candidates must embrace the mission of California Baptist University and evidence a clear understanding of, and commitment to, excellence in teaching through the integration of the Christian faith and learning. A terminal degree in the field indicated is preferred, although candidates with a master's degree who are working toward a terminal degree may be considered. An application for a position may be submitted electronically through the University's web site at www.calbaptist.edu.

Entrepreneurship

The School of Business seeks a new high-initiative faculty member in entrepreneurship who would enjoy teaching aspiring entrepreneurs the knowledge and real-world problem-solving skills required by successful startup and early-stage enterprises. The successful candidate will join an entrepreneurially-oriented faculty in teaching entrepreneurship courses with excellence at the MBA and bachelor's levels, and in helping develop and offer curriculum and co-curricular activities for a planned undergraduate program in entrepreneurship. Candidates without the doctoral degree will be considered with a graduate degree in an entrepreneurship-related discipline, strong potential as a scholar, and evidence of personal success as an entrepreneur.

Economics

The School of Business seeks to expand its economics faculty with an economist who would enjoy teaching aspiring and practicing managers at a high level of excellence. The successful candidate will teach undergraduate and MBA courses in micro- and macroeconomics, and in an area of specialization such as forecasting models, international economics or industry analysis/strategic management. The ideal candidate will hold the doctoral degree and have strong potential as a research scholar and/or as a pragmatic scholar in applying economic theory to real-world business situations.
