Accounting Faculty

Warner University is seeking applicants for an accounting faculty position. Position duties include teaching undergraduate courses in accounting (graduate if qualified) in traditional as well as nontraditional settings (including online). Of particular importance is the ability and desire to integrate the study and practice of accounting and business to the Christian faith. In addition, duties will include the normal faculty responsibilities and activities such as: advising individual students and student groups, scholarship and involvement in professional growth and development activities, and participation in school and college wide faculty committees and meetings.

The ideal candidate will be academically qualified with a PhD or DBA in accounting (master's degree candidates will be considered) and capable of teaching the typical accounting curriculum.

Successful faculty candidates will bridge business theory and practice through quality instruction and applied intellectual contributions. Experience teaching accounting in higher education is a plus. To apply, send a letter of application, curriculum vita or resume, and statement of faith and journey to:

Dr. Cynthia Robinson, Dean
Warner University
School of Business
13895 Hwy 27
Lake Wales, FL 33859
cynthia.robinson@warner.edu.

All applicants are asked to submit a personal statement of faith and journey. This personal reflection should consist of a survey of one's faith pilgrimage to include key events, persons, and associations with faith communities. It must also offer discussion of one's spectrum of current beliefs.

A person who applies to teach at Warner University should honestly and candidly reflect upon his or her willingness and ability to work to fulfill the college mission statement (printed below).

The mission of Warner University is to graduate individuals who exemplify academic excellence and Christian character, who are prepared to lead and committed to serve.
